::cue the music:: On the third week of remote learning, my teacher gave to me...58 more verbs for my visual dictionaryyy!

Good luck with your work this week, students! I miss you all and look forward to seeing your faces soon. As always, don't hesitate to reach out with questions or even just to let me know how it's going. As your teacher, my job is to plan lessons that will challenge but not overwhelm you, especially as we are in this remote learning phase. That's hard to do without feedback! Let me know if I'm striking that balance for you, and if not, we can work together to make that happen.
